A Letter from Fr. Patrick Kizza

Dear Parishioners of Saint Patrick,

This weekend's Gospel message is one that speaks directly to the heart of our faith and the way we live each day: "Be prepared, for at an hour you do not expect, the Son of Man will come." Jesus does not intend to frighten us with these words. Instead, He offers a wake-up call—a loving invitation to live our lives with purpose, faithfulness, and watchfulness. His words call us to alertness, to vigilance, and above all, to spiritual readiness.

In many aspects of life, we spend considerable time, money and effort preparing for the unknown. We take out insurance on our homes, vehicles, and even our lives, all in anticipation of events we hope will never come, disasters, illnesses. We build savings for the future, create safety plans for emergencies, and invest in tools to secure our physical wellbeing. Why? Because we understand the value of being prepared. We know that uncertainty is part of life, and so we plan ahead to protect ourselves and our loved ones.

Yet when it comes to our spiritual lives—our eternal souls—we often take less care. We delay conversion, postpone confession, put off prayer, and neglect the things that nurture our relationship with God. We say, "There's still time," or "I'll get serious about my faith later," as if tomorrow is promised. But Jesus tells us plainly that no one knows the day or the hour.

The question that arises for each of us, then, is deeply personal: If the Son of Man were to come right now, am I ready to meet Him? This is not meant to make us live in fear, but to help us live with intention and love. Preparedness does not mean living in panic but living in peace—because we are walking closely with the Lord each day.

To be ready for the Lord's return is to live a life rooted in faith:

- A life of prayer, where we speak to God and listen to His voice in silence.
- A life of charity, where we serve the poor, forgive those who hurt us, and love one another genuinely.
- A life of Sacraments, especially frequent confession and the Holy Eucharist, which strengthen and nourish our souls.
- A life of vigilance, where we examine our hearts regularly and seek God's mercy and grace.

Being spiritually prepared also means we do not allow the distractions and busyness of the world to numb our awareness of God's presence. Jesus warns us not to become complacent or drowsy in our faith. Rather, we are to be like the wise servant—watchful and faithful, doing what the Master has asked until He returns.

The Gospel's call to "Be alert, be vigilant, be prepared, and never be afraid" is a message of hope. We do not live in fear of judgment, but in joyful anticipation of the Lord's return. Christ is coming, not as a stranger, but as a friend, a Savior, a Bridegroom longing for His people. We are invited to prepare not with dread, but with love.

So, let us ask ourselves: How am I preparing my soul? Is my heart open and ready to welcome the Lord at any moment? Am I living each day as a gift and opportunity to grow in holiness?

As we reflect on these questions, may the Holy Spirit guide us to live as faithful and vigilant disciples. Let us encourage one another on this journey of preparation, remembering always that God is merciful, patient, and ready to embrace us whenever we return to Him.

May the words of this weekend's Gospel remain with us as a daily reminder: Be alert. Be vigilant. Be prepared. And never be afraid. For the Lord is near to those who seek Him with a sincere heart.

I wish you all God's blessing,

Fr. Patrick

"The OCIA experience was a wonderful exploration of the Catholic faith that helped me reach deeper meaning in my relationship with God through knowledge and insight into what the Catholic Church teaches and why. I was raised Catholic and received my First Communion as a child, but I was never confirmed. I always wanted to get back around to being confirmed, and after recently welcoming my first child into this world, I felt the need to finally do it so that I could set a proper example for my daughter. I am so happy to have gone through with it, and I now feel as close to our Lord as I ever have. It was also an excellent opportunity to get to know many of my fellow parishioners better than ever. I cannot recommend the experience highly enough."

Immaculate Heart Bible Study GOSPEL OF JOHN Registration Form

We are thrilled to embark on a study of this most beautiful of Gospels—and we think you will be too.

Each of the four evangelists is traditionally represented by a symbolic creature that reflects the character of their Gospel. Fittingly, St. John is symbolized by the eagle, for his Gospel soars to the heights of heaven in its revelation of Jesus' divine identity and mission. While the three Synoptic Gospels share much in common, John's account stands apart as the most unique and profoundly spiritual of the four.

In our study, we will explore St. John's revelation of God as a family and our relationship to Him through grace. We will recognize Jesus' divinity in the seven "signs" highlighted throughout the Gospel, as well as in the glory revealed in His Passion, Death, and Resurrection. Every page radiates the theme of Divine Love.

This Gospel is rich with symbolism, sacramental imagery, Marian insights, fulfillment of Old Testament feasts and sacrifices, and theology of breathtaking depth. We can rightly expect that our journey through St. John's Gospel will draw us into deeper faith, firmer hope, and greater love.

Immaculate Heart Bible Study meets in St. Patrick's O'Gara Center
