

THURSDAY MORNING SCRIPTURE GROUP

Winter – Spring 2016 February 25 – May 12

Jesus Christ: The Face of The Father's Mercy

“At times we are called to gaze even more attentively on mercy so that we may become a more effective sign of the Father's action in our lives.”

– Pope Francis, announcing the Jubilee Year of Mercy

On December 8 we entered the “Jubilee Year of Mercy.” In recognition of this, St. Patrick’s Thursday Morning Scripture Group, led by parishioner Susan Carlson, will focus on the theme of mercy during the group’s winter-spring session that will begin on February 25 and conclude on May 12.

The Thursday Morning Scripture Group’s approach to the Scriptures is to combine study, prayer, reflection, and discussion. The group is co-ed and will meet from 9:30 until 11:00 a.m. each Thursday in the O’Gara Parish Activity Center.

In addition to the Bible, the Thursday Morning Scripture Group will use a commentary by Stephen Binz entitled Divine Mercy. The fee for the 2016 winter-spring session is $20 and this fee covers the cost of the commentary. To register or to obtain more information, please contact Susan Carlson at SMcCarlson@aol.com or 847-295-9714. Please consider joining the Thursday Morning Scripture Group as we explore what the Bible tells us about the boundless mercy of God. No prior Bible study experience is necessary. All are welcome!
