Reflection for January 18, 2026

2nd Sunday in Ordinary Time

(Lectionary 64)

Today's reading from the Gospel of John again focuses on the Baptism of our Lord and its meaning for our lives. If we reflect on Jesus' Baptism, it offers us a chance to renew our baptismal promises and our relationship with Jesus. We hear that St. John the Baptist calls Jesus the "Lamb of God." This moment connects the Old and New Testaments, marking the Messiah's arrival. It begins Jesus' public ministry, reveals His divinity, and invites each of us to form a supernatural relationship with God.

We can relate to the start of Jesus' public ministry in our daily lives. Jesus knew a working life, being the carpenter's son, and the trials of making a living. We can offer our daily work, routine, and activities to God as a labor of love. By modeling the work ethic of Jesus and St. Joseph, we can be certain that our work is both pleasing and fulfilling.

St. John the Baptist's revelation about Jesus clearly shows the divinity of Jesus. Jesus Christ, who existed from all eternity, has now come into the world, our world, to transform each of us. Another way of putting this is that He, the Christ, existed outside of time. Thus, Christ's dominion is over all things. I find this very important in my prayer time, asking God for daily strength – specifically, for Jesus to be with me throughout the entire day, helping me make those daily decisions that reflect Him in all that I do. This 'existence' is always and forever.

With the 'Spirit of God' descending like a dove and coming upon Jesus, we read about the supernatural effects of what this event signifies. Supernatural activities take place all the time; we just need to be aware of them. God is protecting us and allowing for good in our lives. This goodness is a humble reminder in all our activities of God's hand in our actions. Yes, even in times of stress or difficulty, our Lord is maybe protecting us from other dangers or heavier burdens and thus keeping us on that narrow path towards heaven. We just need to trust in God.

As we start our journey into this new year, 2026, let us renew ourselves into being ever-present with Christ during the day, just as if we were standing with St. John the Baptist and Jesus at the Jordan River that day. Remind ourselves that Jesus is truly God, He can do all things. And that we truly look with the eyes of faith at the supernatural activities around us. May you and I love God for His Holy goodness, being amazing Catholics in the living out of our faith.

May God's blessings be with you and your family in this New Year, Brad

Reflection for January 11, 2026 - Epiphany

Epiphany is the celebration of the arrival of the MAGI from the East to pay homage to the newborn king of the Jews.

The MAGI were originally a tribe of Medes that were part of the Persian Empire. They attempted to overthrow the Persians, but failed. From that time on, the MAGI ceased to have any ambitions for power and prestige. Instead, they became a tribe of priests. They became men of holiness and wisdom. They were skilled in philosophy, medicine, and natural science. They were soothsayers and interpreters of dreams. They were good and holy men who sought the truth. They focused their energy on becoming teachers and became instructors for the Persian king. No sacrifice could be offered in Persia unless one of the MAGI were present.

In the days when Jesus was born, everyone believed in Astrology. People believed they could foretell the future from the stars and they believed a person's destiny was indicated by the star under which they were born. We do not know which star the MAGI saw in the sky when Jesus was born. It was their profession to watch the heavens and the MAGI saw a heavenly brilliance that spoke to them indicating the entry of a king into the world. They determined that the king was to be born in Judea and they set out on the long journey from Persia to Judea to find the newborn king.

This feeling was not only in Persia. The Roman historians also had expectations of the coming of a king. The Roman General and statesman, known as Suetonius, wrote in the Life of Vespasian, "There had spread over all the Orient, an old established belief. It was fated at that time, for men coming from Judea, to rule the world." The Roman historian and senator, known as Tacitus, tells of the belief that "there was a firm persuasion ... that at this time, the East, was to grow powerful, and rulers from Judea, were to acquire, a universal empire."

The Jews had a similar belief. Josephus, the Jewish historian and military leader, wrote in his work on the Jewish Wars that, "about that time, one from their country, should become governor, of all the people on earth."

In Rome at that time, Augustus, the Roman Emperor, was being hailed as the Savior of the world, and Virgil, the Roman poet, wrote about "the golden days to come."

With the worldwide feeling about the coming of a king or savior, we can understand, that the MAGI would want to be there for the birth of Christ. When Jesus was born, the world was in eager expectation. Men and women were waiting for God and the desire for God was in their hearts.

When Jesus came, people from the ends of the earth gathered at his cradle. It was a sign and symbol that he would lead the world. Here we are 2000 years later with the benefit of all these signs and stories. We take for granted how amazing it was and how difficult it was for people to understand what was happening. The MAGI knew what they were seeing and hearing was amazing. They understood that the birth of this leader was very important.

The birth of Christ was world changing. He came to provide a way to eternal life. Nothing would ever be the same again. We want to bring the Lord fully into our own lives. We are eager to experience the joy which Jesus can bring to us. We all want to feel the deep joy of becoming whole with Christ.

Share YOUR Faith

Support the Collection for the Church in Latin America

The bishops of the United States established the annual Collection for the Church in Latin America as a practical expression of unity and love for their brothers and sisters in Central and South America and the islands of the Caribbean. For more than 60 years, Catholics in the United States have answered the invitation to “share your faith” by supporting pastoral ministries that strengthen the Church in the present day and help it pass on the Gospel to future generations.

One of the most important ways that Catholics share our faith with future generations is by supporting the formation and seminary education of men who have answered God’s call to the priesthood or diaconate. In Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, 149 priestly seminarians and 69 permanent deacons at the São José Archdiocesan Seminary received support through the Collection for the Church in Latin America to help cover education tuition and spiritual retreat expenses, as well as the cost of food.

Your support for this special collection helps prepare these men for lives of serving others through their preaching and celebration of the sacraments.

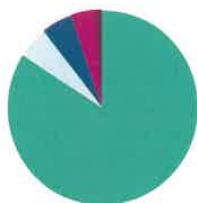

For more information about how donations help the Church in Latin America, visit www.usccb.org/latin-america.
