Catholic Q&A

Q Why are Catholics required to get married in a church, and not outside or at a different venue?

A Because the sacrament of marriage is a sacred covenant between the husband and wife, the celebration of the sacrament of matrimony is much more than simply a social or family event. So, the rule that the sacrament be celebrated in a church is a way to help reinforce the deeper meaning of Christian marriage.

To help make this clearer, the Church's tradition also normally includes the celebration of the Mass when the marriage is being celebrated between two Catholics, and so a church or chapel is the ideal setting. For special reasons — which vary from diocese to diocese — the local bishop can give permission for the marriage to be celebrated in another suitable place.

St. Louise de Marillac (1591–1660)

By: John D'Anca

In 17th-century France, women seeking a holy life were expected to retreat behind convent walls. Louise de Marillac considered that rulebook and rewrote it.

Born in 1591, Louise was bright and thoughtful, yet often plagued by anxiety and self-doubt. After becoming a young widow, she turned her pain into fuel for service.

Everything changed when she teamed up with St. Vincent de Paul in Paris. In 1633, she helped start the Daughters of Charity, sending women straight into the slums to nurse the sick and feed the poor.

A gifted leader, Louise organized orphanages, overhauled hospitals, trained nurses, and managed emergency supplies through outbreaks of plague and war. She held one firm rule: treat every person in need with genuine warmth, never like a project or a burden.

She didn't escape her struggles; she let them guide her in caring for others. Named the patron saint of social workers in 1934, her life reminds us: Saints are not forged only in quiet sanctuaries, but out in the streets where the reality of life happens.

St. Louise de Marillac's Feast Day is March 15

Using Our Gifts: A Parish Called to Be Faithful Servants

In this Sunday's Gospel, Jesus shares the parable of the talents. A master entrusts his servants with different amounts of money before going on a journey. Two servants use what they have received and make it grow, while the third buries his talent out of fear. When the master returns, he praises those who faithfully used what had been entrusted to them.

This parable reminds us that each one of us has been blessed with gifts and talents from God. We may not all have the same abilities, but every gift has value. Some people are gifted in leadership, teaching, music, communication, organization, hospitality, cooking, visiting the sick, working with children, or offering a listening ear. Others may have the gift of prayer, encouragement, generosity, or simply making someone feel welcome. No talent is too small when it is offered with love.

The important question is not whether we have talents, but how we use them. Do we use our gifts only for ourselves, or do we share them for the good of others? Do we allow fear, busyness, or the belief that we have nothing to offer to keep us from serving? Jesus invites us not to bury our gifts but to put them to work. Our talents are not possessions to hide; they are blessings to share.

At St. Patrick, we have many ministries and opportunities to serve. I encourage every parishioner to find a ministry that speaks to your gifts and interests. Whether it is serving at Mass, welcoming people at the doors, helping with faith formation, supporting our youth, visiting the sick, participating in outreach, singing in the choir, or assisting with parish events, there is a place for you. When each person contributes, our parish becomes a stronger, more welcoming, and more vibrant community of faith.

I am deeply grateful to all our volunteers at St. Patrick who generously share their time, energy, and talents with the people of God. Your service makes a real difference in the life of our parish. Thank you for saying yes to God's invitation.

I would also like to warmly welcome our new members of the Parish Pastoral Council and Finance Council. Thank you for accepting the responsibility of leadership and service. This weekend, at the 10:00 a.m. Mass, I will formally commission you and pray for God's blessings upon you as you begin this important ministry. May the Holy Spirit guide your decisions, strengthen your commitment, and help you serve our parish with wisdom, humility, and love.

Finally, this is our Commitment Weekend for the Building on Faith, Serving the Future campaign. I am grateful that we have fulfilled our financial commitment to the archdiocese. Therefore, all additional funds raised will remain at St. Patrick to support the needs and future of our parish. I encourage every family to prayerfully consider supporting this important campaign. I do not know everyone's financial circumstances, but I invite you to pray about what you might be able to contribute. Every gift, whatever its size, makes a difference when it is given with a generous heart. Let us remember that God does not ask us to have someone else's talents or resources. He asks us to be faithful with what we have received. May we never bury our gifts but use them generously to build God's Kingdom and strengthen our St. Patrick community.

May the Lord one day say to each of us: "Well done, my good and faithful servant. Come, share your master's joy."

Fiscal Year 2026 Financial Report

On behalf of the St. Patrick Finance Council and the Parish Staff, I am pleased to present the financial report for the parish fiscal year end as of June 30, 2026. Since becoming your pastor on July 1, I continue to be grateful for all the support that I have received and the energy of our parish community. This energy is manifested not only in our liturgies but also in the volunteer spirit that supports so many of our parish activities.

These financial results represent the incredible generosity of our St. Patrick's family. It shows a healthy parish with a strong forward momentum. It also shows a parish with the opportunity to continue to strengthen if we can expand the commitment and support of our long-time parishioners as well as our new parishioners.

As is customary, the Statement of Profit and Loss and Balance Sheet are presented for the 2026 and 2025 June 30-year end. These side-by-side results illustrate the progress that continues to occur in strengthening the financial foundation of the parish. This Statement of Profit and Loss has been re-formatted to separate regular operating results from the extraordinary or non-operating results. This was done to highlight some significant one-time items that have favorably impacted the total operating results for the year ended June 30, 2026.

Review of Results from Operations

During the 2026 fiscal year the generosity of our parishioners and others has been exceptional. Donations from the weekly collections combined with the Christmas and Easter holiday special collections increased by 19% over the prior year to $1.41 million. It is this support that provides the parish with the resources to deliver the full support and programs to our parish community. This is one of the vital metrics that continues to be the key to the continued financial health of the parish.

On the expense side, continued cost discipline resulted in a narrower operating deficit to $68,000 compared to an operating deficit of $204,000 in 2025. Ongoing cost increases for utilities and maintenance accounted for almost half of the increase in total operating costs and reflect the challenges associated with operating an aging set of facilities. These cost pressures will continue to grow until the current HVAC systems are updated. One of the boilers is original to the building which dates back to 1997. As many of you may know, we are currently engaged in the Building on Faith, Serving the Future capital campaign. One of the major projects funded by the campaign will be the replacement of the current HVAC systems. When completed, this is expected to translate into cost savings both in utilities and maintenance.

From an operations perspective, the donation trend is a positive one. Attached to this report is a breakdown of our trackable non-cash donors. If we can expand our donor base, we may be able to raise our collection revenues to better match, or potentially exceed, our annual operating expenses. Also positive is growth in religious education revenue resulting from the increase in the number of students registered. The long-term future of our parish community is going to come from these students and their continued faith formation. This also becomes a key operating metric that we will continue to track with the goal of increasing the number of students in religious education programs.

Extraordinary Items

During the 2026 fiscal year, the parish benefitted from two extraordinary non-operating income amounts as well as a few other non-operating items. The parish was the recipient of a major donation for the designated purpose of a new pipe organ for the main church building. In addition, a deceased parishioner made a substantial unrestricted bequest to the parish. These items appear in the Other Extraordinary Income and Estate, Bequests, Memorials lines, respectively. The unspent portion of these generous gifts is contained in the cash accounts that appear on the June 30, 2026, Balance Sheet.

The other two significant non-operating revenue items are the Annual Catholic Appeal Parish share and the investment income from parish investments. The Parish Share from the Annual Appeal is a direct result of our parishioners' generosity for which we continue to be grateful. Your continued support of this annual Archdiocesan appeal has a direct and significant impact on parish financial health when your donations exceed the parish's target goal received from the Archdiocese prior to the campaign's kickoff. This 2026 amount increased 20% from the prior year and helped close the gap between operating revenue and expense.

The investment income is primarily the result of unrealized gains on parish investments which is susceptible to fluctuations in financial market conditions. These conditions have been favorable for the past two years but cannot be relied upon for annual parish needs. The parish's investments are managed by Northern Trust Company. St. Patrick's benefits from the financial expertise provided by these independent financial experts and the results speak for themselves through the growth of the assets under their management.

Parish Balance Sheet

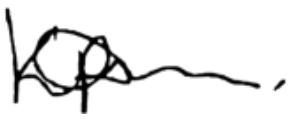

As of June 30, 2026, the parish balance sheet shows substantial cash balances across several accounts, primarily from extraordinary non-operating income not yet spent on committed items. The growth in the Endowment and Special Investment Savings account since last year is the result of the growth of unrealized gains in the parish investment and endowment accounts. It's important to understand that cash balances have decreased significantly since June 30, 2026, as amounts donated for the new church organ were spent on its building and upcoming installation.

A Look Ahead

This year I'd like to share an analysis to identify the profile of our parish giving community. It suggests that there is a segment of our parish population that may be open to becoming more engaged with our community spiritually, operationally, and financially. I'd welcome the opportunity to meet with any current or prospective member of our faith community so that I can share with you the myriad opportunities in which you can become involved.

Finally, I am so grateful to you all for welcoming me as a member of the St. Patrick Community. I am appreciative of all you have done and continue to do on behalf of our parish. If I have not yet met you, I invite you to stop and say hello after Mass so that I can get to know you better. May God bless our parish, and I thank you for being part of the St. Patrick's family.

Faithfully Yours,

Fr. Patrick Kizza

Beginning this fall, the Archdiocese of Chicago will hold local gatherings, "Conversations in the Spirit." These are opportunities to come together to pray with and listen to one another and notice where the Holy Spirit is moving among us.

Please consider joining us for a listening session in your area. Sessions will be held from November into February throughout the Archdiocese of Chicago. Other sessions will be offered for various affinity groups. Please consider registering for the session to which you feel most called.
